

Our First Getaway For Two is Planned!

My son is two and a half and now successfully spending the night at my parent's house. He doesn't even miss me! It is such a bittersweet feeling isn't it? When the kids start getting older and don't "need" you quite like they used to. The one think my husband and I decided was that once the kids were old enough to both stay at my parent's house, he and I would start traveling more together. Alone.

Traveling with my husband alone, without my kids? That sounds amazing!

Now, don't get me wrong. I love my kids and we've had some amazing family travels. But to go on a trip for three nights with my husband this summer to Austin, Texas? I simply cannot wait.

I'm already thinking of the items I want to pack. I am sure it will be warm in Austin this summer. So summer dresses, swimsuits, and sandals are essential. What's awesome is I can fit all of my items in a carry-on. Whenever I don't have to check luggage, is a good travel experience for me!

I love packing efficiently and only the things that I need when I am traveling. With all the traveling we've done for my husband's job, I am a packing pro. To tell you the truth, I prefer using the Lite Gear Kompressor Kubes than plastic baggies. They fit a good amount of clothing, compress, protect your clothes, keep everything organized, and are very well made. Plus, they just look good don't they?

flattering on me. I love that I can fit many summer dresses for my upcoming getaway for two in the Lite Gear Tri-fold Garment Sleeve. With mesh pockets and a large pleated pocket, I can easily fit my sandals, any folded clothing and toiletries. Best, part? It folds up so small!
